Dear Faculty, Students, Practitioners in Recreational Therapy and Therapeutic Recreation,

The Southeast Recreational Therapy Symposium (SRTS), Inc. is excited to offer scholarships for the Southeast Recreational Therapy Symposium to be held March 28-30 2018 at Kingsmill Resort in Williamsburg, VA. In addition to the student scholarships, SRTS is pleased to again offer a scholarship for first-year practitioners.

The scholarships are intended to make the Symposium available to those students and first-year practitioners who 1) have a need for financial assistance, and 2) demonstrate potential to use the knowledge gained to enhance professional practice. The scholarships are "working" scholarships. Those who receive scholarships will assist with various aspects of administering the Symposium. SRTS believes this experience will further enhance the student's or the practitioner's professional competencies. The scholarships will provide complimentary registration and housing, but will not cover meals (except any included in the registration) or transportation.

Information for completing the application and additional information about the Southeast Recreational Therapy Symposium can be found at srts.info. Please distribute this information to those who may be interested and may benefit from this opportunity. The deadline for applications February 5, 2018. Those selected for the scholarships will be notified by February 27, 2018.

If you have questions about the SRTS Scholarships please call or write. Please return completed applications (electronically) along with your scanned transcripts and letters of recommendation to Laurence Evans, CTRS, Chair-Elect at levans@seviercountyttn.gov NO LATER THAN February 5, 2018. Laurence can also be reached by phone at 865-255-2668. We look forward to receiving your SRTS Scholarship applications.

Sincerely,

Maureen Meador, CTRS

SRTS Chair
